CHAPTER II.

THOUGH past seventy, Uncle David was a brisk walker, and on this night in particular he sped along so fast that he was half way down H street by the time I had turned the corner of New Hampshire avenue.

His gaunt but not ungraceful figure, merged in that of the dog trotting closely at his heels, was the only moving object in the dreary vista of this the most desolate block in Washington.

As I neared the building I was so impressed by the surrounding stillness that I was ready to vow that the shadows were denser here than elsewhere and that the few gas lamps which flickered at intervals down the street shone with a more feeble ray than in any other equal length of street in Washington.

Meanwhile the shadow of Uncle David had vanished from the pavement.
He had paused beside a fence which limed with vines, surrounded and near-

What The Earth Produces.

The earth has nourished us through unknown ages of human existence. Is it not true that the earth supplies us with everything that we really require for existence?
Have you ever thought that it is probable that the earth supplies us with the means to keep our bodily vigor, our health, if we only knew it? The animals know by instinct what is good for them and will search until they find in some plant what they need for correcting indigestion or constipation, etc. Is it, therefore, not possible that there are roots and herbs supplied by nature which will cure the diseases that afflict human kind? That is why Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has such faith in his "Medical Discovery." Years ago, when he was in general and active practice, he found that a combination of certain herbs and roots made into an alternative extract, without the use of alcohol, would always put the stomach into a healthy condition, nourish the tissues, feed the blood and nerve and put healthy tone into the whole system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores the lost flesh by curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food from which flesh and strength are made.

"I was all run down, very nervous, and suffered terribly from stomach trouble, which the doctors pronounced indigestion," writes Mrs.
Wm. Morry, of Marshall, Mich. "I doctored for a year without permanent relief. Was advised by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after the use of nine bottles I was cured. I can heartily recommend the "Golden Medical Discovery" to any one suffering from stomach trouble. My husband was also greatly benefited by its use."

ly hid from sight the little cottage he had mentioned as the only house on the block with the exception of the great Moore place; in other words, his own home.

As I came abreast of him I heard him muttering, not to his dog, as was his custom, but to himself. In fact, the dog was not to be seen, and this desertion on the part of his constant companion seemed to add to his disturbance and affect him beyond all reason. I could distinguish these words among the many he directed toward the unseen animal:

"You're a knowing one—too knowing! You see that loosened shutter over the way as plainly as I do; but you're a coward to slink away from it.
I don't. I face the thing, and, what's more, I'll show you yet what I think of a dog that can't stand his ground and help his old master out with some show of courage. Creaks, does it?
Well, let it creak. I don't mind its creaking, glad as I should be to know whose hand—Hello! You've come, have you?" This to me. I had just stepped up to him.

"Yes, I've come. Now, what is the matter with the Moore house?"

He must have expected the question, yet his answer was a long time coming. His voice, too, sounded strained, and was pitched quite too high to be natural. But he evidently did not expect me to show surprise at his manner.

"Look at that window over there!" he cried at last. "That one with the slightly open shutter! Watch and you will see that shutter move. There, it creaked! Didn't you hear it?"

A growl—it was more like a moan—came from the porch behind us. Instantly the old gentleman turned and, with a gesture as fierce as it was instinctive, shouted out:

"Be still there! If you haven't the courage to face a blowing shutter, keep your jaws shut and don't let every fellow who happens along know what a fool you are. I declare," he mandered on, half to himself and half to me, "that dog is getting old. He can't be trusted any more. He forsakes his master just when"—The rest was lost in his throat, which rattled with something more than impatient anger.

Meanwhile I had been attentively scrutinizing the house thus pointedly brought to my notice. I had seen it many times before, but, as it happened, had never stopped to look at it when the huge trees surrounding it were shrouded in darkness. The black hollow of its disused portal looked out from shadows which acquired some of their somberness from the tragic memories connected with its empty void.

Its aspect was scarcely reassuring.
Not that superstition lent its terrors to the lonely scene, but that through the blank panes of window, alternately appearing and disappearing from view as the shutter pointed out by Uncle David blew to and fro in the wind, I saw or was persuaded that I saw a beam of light which argued an unknown presence within walls which had so lately been declared unfit for any man's habitation.

"You are right," I now remarked to the uneasy figure at my side. "Someone is prowling through the house yonder. Can it possibly be Mrs. Jeffrey or her husband?"

"At night and with no gas in the house? Hardly."

The words were natural, but the voice was not. Neither was his manner quite suited to the occasion. Giving him another shy glance and marking how uneasily he eluded away from me in the darkness, I cried out more cheerily than he possibly expected:

"I will summon another officer, and we three will just slip across and investigate."

"Not I!" was his violent rejoinder as he swung open a gate concealed in the vines behind him. "The Jeffreys would resent my intrusion if they ever happened to hear of it."

"Indeed!" I laughed, sounding my whistle. Then, soberly once more, for I was more than a little struck by the oddity of his behavior and thought him as well worth investigation as the house in which he showed such an interest: "You shouldn't let that count.
Come and see what's up in the house you are so ready to call yours."

But he only drew farther into the shade.

"I have no business over there," he objected. "Veronica and I have never been on good terms. I was not even invited to her wedding, though I live within a stone's throw of the door.
No; I have done my duty in calling attention to that light, and whether it's the bullseye of a burglar—perhaps you don't know that there are rare treasures on the bookshelves of the great library—or whether it is the fantastic illumination which frightens fool folks and some fool dogs, I'm done with it and done with you, too, for tonight."

A ROCKY ROAD AND A HEAVY LOAD.

GLOOM IN RUSSIA

St. Petersburg Filled With Dire Forebodings of Coming Disaster.

IT LOOKS LIKE A ROUT

Forces Over Kuropatkin's Army Are Reported.

Amazing Losses on Both Sides Mark This as Bloodiest Battle in History.

The main armies of Russia and Japan in Manchuria continue to be engaged in a desperate struggle for su-premaccy south of Mukden. On both sides there have been such losses in killed and wounded as mark the contest one of the bloodiest battles in history. Already the losses at Liao Yang has been approximated, and the indications are that they will be exceeded, that of the Russians up to noon of October 14 being estimated at 15,000.

The Russian advance has been converted into a stubbornly fought retreat. The result according to the Russians, is still to be determined.
Reports from the Russian left wing are lacking, leaving room for question if that part of General Kuropatkin's army is not in worse extremity than the center and right were at any stage of the battle.

On both sides the soldiers have shown the utmost tenacity and bravery, and whole regiments have gone down before the fire of the enemy. In official circles of St. Petersburg there is a disposition to argue that even should General Kuropatkin be obliged to retire upon Mukden his position will be as favorable as it was when the order to advance was given on Oct. 6, and that on the other hand the Japanese powers of future resistance will have materially weakened. There is no news from Port Arthur.

FOREBODING OF DEFEAT
Russian Pessimism Is Now Prepared for the Worst.

London, Oct. 15.—A dispatch to a news agency from Mukden says the Japanese have gained a great victory and that the Russian lines are withdrawing slowly northward, having suffered heavy losses. The battle continues and dispatches are strictly censored.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—The great feeling of concern which exists in high circles in the Russian capital today by no means equals the foreboding of coming disaster pervading the general public, which is indulging in the deepest pessimism.

In the absence of official news the public is feeding on the wildest rumors of defeat suffered by General Kuropat-kin. The fact that no word regarding the battle has been officially given out

MARQUIS OYAMA, COMMANDER IN CHIEF JAPANESE ARMY.

only confirms the popular fear. General Kuropatkin's report of the result of yesterday's operations has reached Emperor Nicholas at Tsarkoe Selo, but it has not been repeated here.
The czar himself is represented as bitterly disappointed and spending hours with his cabinet, studying out with the help of his military aides, reports of the battle. The general staff, however, by no means despairs, though admitting that the tide last two days has been against General Kuropatkin. The general staff says the battle is not yet over, and that in any event there is no question of a route.

The depressing feature of the situation is that everyone is willing to believe the worst, as the reports from Tokio and elsewhere stating that the Japanese are advancing and the Russians falling back are accepted with faith based upon the previous Russian retreat.

Many reports are current as to the genesis of the forward movement. It is freely said that General Kuropatkin was forced into taking the offensive by pressure from St. Petersburg. This has been officially denied, and as General Kuropatkin's order to advance was given over his own signature, it seems likely that he will have to bear all the responsibility whether the situation is of his own making or not.

Dispatches from the front give a vivid picture of the desperate character of the fighting along the whole line. The Russian plainsmen have been again forced to engage in hill fighting, which is little to their liking.
There have been desperate and repeated attacks on almost inaccessible positions, which leave no question of the resolution and gallantry of the Russian forces. Guns have been captured and recaptured in fierce hand-to-hand fights, while a pitiless downpour of rain, the inevitable accompaniment of a great battle, has flooded the trenches and drenched both armies without allaying the desperate conflict.

The latest word directly from the field of battle is a Mukden dispatch in which it is stated that 15,000 Russians had been wounded, which, together with casualties since would make the total probably exceed the figures of Liao Yang, and make the fight rank as one of the bloodiest battles in history.

Pitiful Features of the Battle Are Noted There.

Mukden, Oct. 15.—The fighting is raging with the same bitterness as on the previous days of the engagement and the result is still in the balance.
The losses on both sides are enormous, that of the Russians being 15-000. Wounded soldiers are being brought in from all directions. The roads are crowded with long trains of wagons, baggage and transport wagons, as well as ambulances being pressed into service, even Chinese two-wheeled carts filling the mandate of the military. Men afoot are limping in, using their guns as crutches, the less severely wounded supporting their comrades, after first-aid dressing on the firing line.

Even across the fields you meet them, taking the shortest and straight-est road for help and shelter. It is the most pitiful feature of the bloody drama being enacted at the front, when, stiffened with wounds, pain-racked bodies slink to the roadside after the support of the danger and the glory of the active fight have been withdrawn. In the distance the sounds of battle are still plainly heard. The rain has ceased and the sun is shining serenely.

Japanese Victory Confirmed.

London, Oct. 15.—All accounts of the fighting south of Mukden that have reached London appear to confirm the completeness of the Japanese victory, and the only question discussed by military critics is whether General Kuropatkin will be able to make as orderly a retreat as he did from Liao Yang, or whether the Japanese possess sufficient fresh reserves to undertake a successful pursuit. In this connection the Standard's Yantai correspondent and a dispatch to a news agency from Tokio assert that General Oku's army has occupied Pachiatse, only twelve miles from Mukden.

Created a Profound Impression.

Tientsin, Oct. 15.—The Japanese victory south of Mukden has made a deeper impression in the far East than any previous victory of the war. A Shanghai dispatch says that steamers conveying further reinforcements for the besieging army will leave Osaka within a few days for Port Arthur.

A DEMOCRATIC PLOT Everything Will Be Sacrificed for the Legislative Ticket.

Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—Republican leaders here believe they have uncovered a little plot of their Democratic friends, which shows how little faith they have in the protestations in which their managers have been indulging lately relative to their ability to carry this county. Positive evidence has been secured that the Democratic managers are preparing, at the last moment, to center their fight on the legislative ticket. The county, state and township tickets will be traded right and left to secure votes for the legislative ticket. It is not hard to see the purpose of this. The next legislature will be called on to elect Senator Beveridge's successor, and on it will also devolve the election of Senator Fairbanks' successor after he has been elevated to the vice-presidency. The Republicans do not at all wonder at the turn of affairs the campaign is taking. The two senator-ships are the real prizes at stake, anyway. With the small chance the Democrats have of carrying the state outright the Republicans have been expecting them to turn their attention to the legislative tickets all over the state. But as throwing light on the real situation here the fact is significant. The Democrats have all along claimed they would carry the county.
If they really could do this their legislative ticket would go through with the rest. That they are preparing to trade everything for votes for this ticket shows positively therefore that their claims have all been false.

There promises to be very little real trouble between the city officials and officers of the Indianapolis Water company with the war department at Washington over the question of sewage disposal at the new army post, notwithstanding the talk which has been going the rounds that this city might yet lose the post on account of the entanglement that has developed.
When the fact that there is a dispute over the question which has tied up work at the post came to light steps were at once taken to see that the difficulty is overcome so that there may be no delay. The Commercial Club was the first organization to take the question up and its quick action in appointing a committee to make an investigation will doubtless result in a final adjustment of differences in the very near future. Engineers here say there is absolutely no need for any misunderstanding. They say there are a dozen modern means of sewage disposal whereby the waste from the post can be rendered harmless before being emptied into Fall creek, any one of which will be effective. Under the circumstances, they declare there is no reason for the water company to fear pollution of the stream. A united effort will be made to secure the promise that no injunction proceedings shall be instituted, which is the thing the government is waiting for.

The Big Four railroad has just come in for a stiff bit of criticism from Coroner Tutewiler in a verdict rendered by him regarding the death of E. A.
Townsend, who was killed right in the heart of the city two weeks ago by the collision of an engine on which he was fireman, with another cut of cars. The coroner finds that the railroad itself was altogether responsible for the man's death, while the blame is not fastened onto any particular employee. The wreck occurred, the verdict declares, for the simple reason that the company has been trying to do a double-track business on a single track. The coroner declares the evidence as to how the two trains came to be on the same track is not clear owing to the fact that the employees examined differed widely in assigning reasons why the two trains came together. But the responsibility is placed directly on the road for its attempt to carry on more traffic over the line in the city than the accommodations will allow.

Charged With Manslaughter.
Warrensburg, Mo., Oct. 15.—J. W.
Preston, conductor, and J. D. Horton, engineer, of the Missouri Pacific train that collided with a passenger train on Monday, killing twenty-nine persons, have been brought here. The prosecuting attorney has filed information charging each with manslaughter in the fourth degree.

CHANGED THEIR TUNE.

Last spring when the Indianapolis Sentinel and the Columbus Herald and numerous other Indiana democratic newspapers joined hands with Belmont and the Wall street clique to nominate Judge Parker for president, nothing was too mean for them to say about Bryan. Matters have now changed. While with the aid of Wall street money they could nominate Parker without Bryan's help, they find it impossible to make a creditable campaign without his assistance. Not only at Columbus but all over Indiana the reorganizers found it impossible to get out crowds for their political meetings. They have been compelled to send for Bryan to draw crowds and the reports coming from the sections of the state he has already visited is that Bryan democrats who have been opposed to Parker and the Wall street aggregation have not been "lined up." They do not blame Bryan for the position he is taking. They say that since he was a delegate to the St. Louis convention he could not do otherwise; but they believe that the election of Parker will render impossible in the future the economic reforms advocated by the Nebraskan—Columbus Republican.

Nor a single thing has occurred since Bryan said he had nothing to take back to modify charges that he made when he said that delegations were stolen for the Parkerites by train robber methods.

A WELL known gold Democrat of Indianapolis remarked yesterday that Bryan's visit to Indiana was sufficient to convince him that his duty was to vote for Roosevelt and he meant to do it, though he had expected to vote for Parker.

TWELVE years ago the voters were very busy and they declined to take time to think about the election. After that a great many didn't have much else to do. We are busy today, also, but it would be wise perhaps to give a thought to the fact that if we would continue to be busy after the election it would be well enough to give a thought to the matter now. The election of Grover Cleveland and a Democratic congress proved a costly mistake for the people. The voters of this country will not make such a mistake this year.

WHATEVER may be said about the reorganizer candidate for the presidency as a person, it still remains true that the people can't elect him without placing in power the element that forced his nomination upon the St. Louis convention and is trying to force his election upon the people. And this is the same element that was back of Grover Cleveland in 1892 and back of him during the administration that followed. The people do not want that crowd in control of national affairs again. They got their fill of their kind of statesmanship from 1893 to 1897.

SAID Senator Fairbanks at Saratoga: "The Republican party has not been the nerveless party of expediency. It has stood for the right and challenged all comers. It has met every emergency which has arisen upon the high level of duty and honor. Above mere party triumph it has put the welfare of the people. It has regarded its platforms as solemn covenants with the people and has been satisfied only when it has written their principles into the laws of the land and carried them into the administration of public affairs. Opposed to this in every way stand the reorganizers. What else should be necessary to command a vote in favor of the one and opposed to the other?"

A MARKET gardener right here a home said to a representative of this paper that his own experience was all that was necessary to convince him of his duty in this campaign. During the last Democratic administration he said he would haul his vegetables to town but could not sell them. He says he found plenty of people who wanted to buy but who did not have the money and could not buy. But since the Republicans came into power, he says, he has no trouble to sell his stuff. Men are employed, business is brisk and the people have the money to buy what they want. He will not vote to go back to the conditions that existed from 1893 to 1897, but will support Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

Judicial Convention.

The Republican judicial convention was held at Orleans this afternoon to nominate a candidate for prosecutor. It was not such a convention as the one that nominated both Swails and Voyles.

Hon. Anderson Perciefield was greeted with splendid audiences at Kurtz and Freetown Friday afternoon and evening. He is an eloquent and convincing speaker and wherever he goes he makes a hit with the people. He gives reasons that are unanswerable why the Republicans should succeed in this campaign. Mr. Perciefield is proving himself a popular candidate for as the people meet him or hear him speak they realize in him a man of ability and one who would represent them well in congress. Mr. Perciefield spent the day at Crothersville and tonight speaks at Uniontown.

The Roosevelt and Fairbanks club met at headquarters last night. There was a good crowd out and they had a profitable meeting. J. A. Cox, candidate for joint senator, who was to have addressed the club, was unable to be present, but will appear on some later date.

For some time the state and national committees have been at work preparing a tour of Indiana for Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge. It is probable that by next week details will be completed and announcements made of the places they will speak.

The local Democrats have been busy all day preparing for the coming of William Jennings Bryan tonight. The crowd in town today has not been as large as expected by both Democrats and Republicans, but a big crowd is expected tonight and if it is not forthcoming there will be some badly disappointed Democrats in this vicinity. Bryan's special train is scheduled to arrive here at 6:30. He is to speak from a platform at Second and Chestnut streets and the hour as advertised is 7 o'clock. Some other speakers of less prominence are down to speak from the same platform.

Trial of the case will occupy all of the coming week.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should not be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

THE FINE COMIC OPERA

will be presented at the Seymour Theatre

Tuesday Evening, October 18.

Great Music,
Grand Chorus;
Splendid Cast,
Superb Orchestra

40 PEOPLE 40

This opera is presented by pupils of Edward Taylor of Indianapolis. They will come from Columbus by special train Tuesday evening.

The company includes many charming singers and clever comedians. The story of the courtship of Miles Standish is always read with pleasure, but here is the story enacted in a most realistic manner and the correct costume. Added is a wealth of comedy principally in the hands of Higgins and Resignation, the old maid.

THE STATE OF TRADE

How Bradstreet Analyzes the Present Situation.

New York, Oct. 15.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Despite irregularities, due to warm weather conditions or to reductions in crop movement trade as a whole maintains a satisfactory volume. Nothing of a boom character is to be noted, but many lines show gains over the corresponding period of 1903, confirmation of this being found in best-on-record September railway earnings and clearings enlarged over last October's weekly totals. The underlying confidence is, perhaps, best shown by the increased sales noted in collections, reports as to which are better than for nearly two years past. The better-than-expected corn and wheat crop out-turns favored by exceptionally warm weather for this season of the year, has induced freer buying from jobbers in the central West and Northwest. Business is also better on the Pacific coast. This same warm weather, however, is a drawback to retail business, which needs the stimulus of sharp, cold weather.

GRASPING SALOONISTS

Cause More Than a Score of Deaths by Cheap Whisky.

New York, Oct. 15.—Wood alcohol in quantities sufficient to cause death has been found in the stomachs of the three supposed victims of poisonous whisky in the so-called "Stryker Farm" quarter, according to a report made to Coroner Scholer by the chemist of the board of health. Following the mysterious and sudden death of not fewer than a score of persons living near Tenth avenue and 48th street, an investigation disclosed the fact that whisky of a very inferior grade was sold in many barrooms in that quarter. Acting on a suspicion that the liquor might have been responsible for some of the deaths, one saloon was closed, samples of whisky were taken from every saloon in the quarter, and the contents of the stomachs of three of the victims were examined.

INTERESTING FIGURES

Number of Those Employed in Executive Civil Service.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The census bureau has issued a report on the executive civil service of the United States showing a total of 271,169 employees, embracing all persons employed in the executive branches of the federal government except enlisted men in military and naval branches. This aggregate embraces 120,786 employees not included in the reports made by the heads of the executive departments. Of these 120,786 all but 17,710 were exempt from examination under the civil service rules. The exempt list includes 74,196 postmasters, 10,855 employees of non-free delivery postoffices and over 18,000 employees at navy yards and stations, appointed under navy regulations.

BIG STRIKE PENDING

Sympathetic Movement at Cincinnati May Involve Many.

Cincinnati, Oct. 15.—The most important development in the coal wagon teamsters' strike here was a joint conference by committees from the engineers, firemen, brewery workers and teamsters' unions and the Central Labor Council to consider the question of a sympathetic strike to aid the teamsters. At a joint meeting of the engineers and firemen it was decided that they would refuse to handle non-union coal after next Monday morning. The four unions at a later meeting agreed to work in perfect harmony, and the brewery workers pledged their support, declaring that if any attempt is made by the brewers to replace the engineers and firemen with non-union men that they will order a strike of all the brewery workers.

Now Listen.

What did W. J. Bryan see in his Indianapolis audience that caused him to give repeated assurances that he supported Parker not for the sake of the appearance of "being in line," but because he was sincerely disposed to support him?

It was as if he had said: "Oh, now, you needn't smile and wink and nudge one another. I'm not joking. Search me. Really I am for Parker—this time. What if I did say a while ago that he was no Democrat, but an unworthy person representing Wall street and the trusts and monopoly and all the wicked dispoilers of the people, or words to that effect? That was when I hadn't thought it over and considered how it would look for me to ask Parker and his friends to fall in line for me when I appear at the head of my reorganized Democracy. Now, I have thought it all over—and—why, I'm for Parker; of course I am. Why shouldn't I be? Now hear me while I sing."—Chicago Chronicle.

Not one man in 500 believes that Bryan wants Parker elected and if he believed he had a ghost of a chance he would not be out making speeches. He wants to resume leadership after Parker's defeat and he is carrying out a plan to put the reorganizers in a hole.

Former Seymour Pastor.

The Hannibal (Mo.) Courier-Post of Oct. 12, says:

"Dr. Thomas J. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, announces his intention to resign his pastorate. His resignation will be tendered the church at the regular weekly prayer meeting which will be held this evening."

"Dr. Stevenson this morning telegraphed his acceptance of a call from Westminster Presbyterian church of Youngstown, Ohio. He hopes to assume the pastorate of the church and preach his first sermon on the first Sunday in November. Already the doctor is making the preliminary arrangements to make the change."

"The Westminster church of Youngstown is one of the leading Presbyterian churches of eastern Ohio. The valuation of the church property is placed at $100,000. This included a $10,000 Carnegie pipe organ in the edifice. The church has a membership of about 700."

The Hannibal paper speaks in very complimentary terms of Dr. Stevenson's work in that city. He was pastor of the Presbyterian church here eight years ago and has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his splendid success.

Delineator For November.

Those who follow every caprice of Fashion, as well as those who have only the usual desire to appear becomingly dressed, will find the November Delineator exceptionally and suggestively, while in the matter of fiction and general literature an equally high standard is maintained. W. G. Fitzgerald tells the story of the trials and heroism of the women missionary abroad in an article that is graphically illustrated, and the romance of Mozart and his Constance is related in the "Composers" series. Dress in its relation to health is discussed by Dr. Grace Peckham Murray, and there is a delightful paper on the "Joy of Living" series, while for the young people, Clara Morris, Ada Marie Peck and Albert Bigelow Paine contribute pleasant and instructive reading. The interests of the home are treated thoroughly, with regard for the special demands of the Thanksgiving season.

AN EXPLANATION.

The Closed Hunting Season Made Plain.

Z. T. Sweeney has issued the following as an explanation of the license feature of the fish and game law:

Section 10 of the game law says: "It shall be unlawful to hunt with dog and shotgun any and all kinds of game from October 1st to November 10th of the same year; except as provided in Section 11 of this act."

The object of this closed season for forty days is to keep everybody out of the field during that time and give all an equal chance when the open season for quail shooting comes in November 10th. There are many lawless people who go out with the avowed purpose of shooting rabbits, practicing their dogs, etc., who have been in the habit of killing quail before the season commences. The man who observes the law has no chance as against these lawless people. They kill nearly all the quail before he can get into the fields. With a forty day closed season the law-abiding hunter has an equal chance with the lawless hunter.

There is, however, a provision in Section 11 which allows men who live in those parts of the state where ducks and wild water fowl are passing through in October and will be out of the state before the 10th of November, to hunt them under a license, and these licenses have been made very strict so as not to permit quail shooting under them, but only birds of passage, and which if not killed in October cannot be killed at all. This is the sole object of the license.

Residents desiring to hunt quails, rabbits, squirrels and other sorts of game, in their regular season, need no license whatever.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by C. W. Milbous.

The Effective Remedy

WASHINGTON, Iowa, April 4, 1908.

I was troubled for over a year with so scanty a flow that it was virtually suppression. A heavy cold superinduced this condition and nothing I could do seemed to help me. The only effective remedy I ever found was Wine of Cardui. Within two weeks I felt the good effects of the medicine and after I had used 12 bottles in all I was as healthy and regular as any woman could wish to be.

My sister used it while expecting to become a mother and found that it made childbirth comparatively easy and after the child was born she found that it helped her to regain her strength.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui cures nine out of every ten cases of the disorders of menstruation. These cures are permanent, whether the trouble is complicated or not.

Wine of Cardui cures the sickness of young girls, relieves the weakness of adults, banishes leucorrhoea, headaches, backaches and nervousness and eases the crisis attendant on the change of life.

Thousands of mothers besides Miss Root's sister have found grateful relief from the pains of childbirth and have had a quick and happy recovery from its use. You cannot afford to suffer when $1.00 bottles are sold by all druggists.

MADE NO CHANGE

Episcopal Church Retains Its Historic Position on Divorce Question.

AMENDMENT REJECTED

By a Small but Decisive Majority the Dioceses Vote to Leave the Canon Alone.

Interesting Figures Showing the Relation: Geography Had to the Issue.

Boston, Oct. 15.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention at the close of a four-days' debate rejected an amendment to the divorce canon, which sought to prevent the remarriage of divorced persons by clergymen of the denomination. While the house of bishops may yet act on the question, it is certain that no change will be made by the present convention.

The present law of the church, which has been in operation since 1859, allows the remarriage of the innocent party to a divorce granted for infidelity. At several conventions attempts have been made to repeal this law, and when a vote was taken by the house of deputies sitting as a committee of the whole, on the question of reporting the proposed amendment to the house itself, the reformers were successful by a vote of 214 to 191, and this vote was regarded as representing the actual strength of the contending forces. The final vote, however, was taken by dioceses and orders, and where a diocese was evenly divided in sentiment, its strength was counted in the negative. The vote by dioceses was: Clerical, for the amendment, 30; against, 21; divided, 10. Lay vote, for, 25; against, 24; divided, 6.

Practically the entire strength of the middle Western states, the stronghold of the high church party, declared for the proposed reform, but the Pacific states and a number of the Southern states voted against a change of the present canon. The diocese of New York opposed the amendment, while that of Pennsylvania favored it. New England, Vermont, New Hampshire and western Massachusetts voted for a change, as did the lay deputies from Rhode Island. The clerical deputies from Maine favored the amendment, but the votes of Connecticut and Massachusetts were cast in the negative.

One Cause Only Recognized.
Cincinnati, Oct. 15.—By a unanimous vote the synod of the Calvinistic Methodist Welsh churches of Ohio and Pennsylvania decided that no other ground for divorce would be recognized by them but unfaithfulness, and the ministers of the denomination are forbidden hereafter to officiate in the marriage of guilty parties.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. ALL WENT DOWN Schooner Dashed to Pieces in a Gale Off Massachusetts Coast.

Chatham, Mass., Oct. 15.—A small part of the forward section of the hull and a slanting foremast stand as mute reminders of an ocean tragedy enacted when the three-masted schooner Wentworth of Moncton, N. B., struck on Chatham bar during a raging northerly gale and all the twelve persons on board perished in the sea. Little could be done in an effort to aid the crew of the disabled craft, as the Cape Cod lifesavers from two stations were unable to launch their surfboats in the tremendous seas. The Wentworth was bound from Hillsboro, N. B., to Newark, N. J., with a cargo of plaster rock. On board so far as known were the captain, his wife and three children, and a crew of seven men.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is sold by C. W. Milbous.

O, beauty! what a powerful weapon thou art. The bravest men fall at thy feet. No wonder women take Holister's Rocky Mountain Tea to prolong that joyous spell. 35 cents, Tea or Tablet. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

A case which shows how carefully the national government follows up the settlement of all just claims has just come to light in the receipt by Thomas Shannon, day policeman at the statehouse of a check, for three cents from the comptroller of the treasury. Away back in 1872 Shannon was caught for $4.75 in the failure of a bank at Anderson. The government at once took charge of affairs, and while the task has been slow, has surely and safely been settling all the accounts. Shannon has at different times received small checks for dividends from the government, the total aggregating about 49 cents. The last check, which is for three cents, is the final settlement.

ORATORY CHECKED

Prohibition Candidate For Governor Was Pulled Off the Stump.

AN EXCITING SCENE

Mr. McWhirter Ran Afoot a Big Policeman at Hammond Who Didn't Know and Didn't Care.

Candidate Talking on the Street Was Asked to Move on and Talked Back.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 15.—The Hon. Felix T. McWhirter, candidate for governor of Indiana on the Prohibition ticket, was unceremoniously jerked off a drygoods box by Patrolman Charles Heimbach and threatened with arrest, in an exciting street scene here.

McWhirter had not long to stop in Hammond, and, purchasing a big drygoods box, he placed it on the corner of the busiest street in town. McWhirter mounted this hastily-improvised platform and began to attract a crowd. Fearing that the sidewalk and street would be blocked, Patrolman Heimbach asked the gubernatorial candidate to betake himself around the corner, where traffic was not so congested.

McWhirter remarked that the streets belonged to the people, and that the patrolman didn't own the town. Words followed and Heimbach seized McWhirter and yanked him from the elevation. Other members of McWhirter's party started to go to his assistance and a miniature riot seemed imminent. Another patrolman came and McWhirter moved his drygoods box. Heimbach did not know who his distinguished opponent was, and remarked afterward that he did not care.

JUDGE SHOWS TEMPER

Rails at the Prisoner and Imposes the Limit.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 15.—"You miserable, low-lived cur—you contemptible scoundrel. I regret that I am not able to pass a heavier sentence on you. I would sentence you to a long term in the penitentiary. You are a disgrace to the name of man."

With this, Judge Harry B. Tuthill of Michigan City sentenced George Becker of this city, in the Lake superior court, to six months' imprisonment in jail and $250 fine, the maximum for assault and battery.

It was the most scathing judicial rebuke ever administered in a Lake county court. Judge Tuthill was thoroughly aroused by the testimony elicited during the trial. Becker tried to reply, but he was cut short.

Some time ago Becker refused to let his wife have 25 cents with which to buy gasoline, so that she could heat water for a sick child. A quarrel followed and Becker struck his wife in the face with a hatchet several times and then, kissing her bloody lips good-bye, he escaped. He was arrested, and at the trial excused his deed by trying to rob his wife of her good name.

Students Do the Hoodlum Act.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 15.—Fifteen Purdue students, armed with stones, walked noisily home from the city at an early hour in the morning and on their way to their rooms they threw these at the windows, smashing the entire front of a real estate office in West Lafayette, demolished a popcorn stand, and then journeyed to the campus. Back of Fowler hall they called a halt and opened fire on the big windows in the room of the board of trustees. The glass was shattered. The faculty is investigating.

Had No Intention of Returning.

Pendleton, Ind., Oct. 15.—Nothing has been heard of Henry Fate, president of the town board, who disappeared from home nearly a week ago. It develops that he collected all outstanding accounts due, settled his affairs and took his books away with him. The police of Indianapolis were asked to assist, but no trace of him has been found. A note has been received by his wife, indicating that he has no purpose of returning.

Intoxicated When Last Seen.

Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 15.—The dead body of Elmer Shaw, file clerk for the B. & O. S. W. Railway company, was found in the Wabash river. He was thirty-one years of age, with a family, and lived in Lawrenceville, Ill. He was last seen alive Sunday, at which time he was intoxicated.

Banker Ellison Not Guilty.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 15.—The jury in the prosecution of Banker Rollin Ellison of Lagrange on the charge of accepting deposits knowing that the institution was insolvent, returned a verdict, finding Ellison not guilty.

Woman Hanged Herself.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Desha Latta, fifty-eight years old, wife of a well-to-do farmer, committed suicide by hanging because of poor health.

Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

Madison, Ind., Oct. 15.—Thomas Tracey, who murdered Frank Siefertman nearly a year ago, has been sentenced to life imprisonment.
